SIT Study Abroad is committed to helping students from diverse backgrounds experience innovative international education programs.

Consider the following funding sources:

- SIT Study Abroad scholarships
  SIT awards more than $1 million in scholarships and grants to SIT Study Abroad students each year.
  See reverse side for details.

- Existing sources of financial aid
  In most cases, your college or university can help you apply your current federal, state, and possibly other financial aid to your study abroad program cost. SIT works closely with the financial aid and study abroad offices of each student’s home institution to coordinate the financial resources available for a student’s SIT experience.

- Special grants and loans
  Your school may offer grants and loans for study abroad and/or undergraduate research. Be sure to speak with your home institution’s study abroad and financial aid advisors.

- National scholarships
  Students may qualify for additional funding for study abroad through outside sources of financial aid, including Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarships for students receiving Federal Pell Grants and National Security Education Program (NSEP) Boren Scholarships.

Getting started

Contact the financial aid office at your home institution to learn if your college’s scholarships and grants, and its federal and state aid programs, will be applied to your SIT program. Visit SIT’s website for a comprehensive list of external funding sources, including national scholarships, as well as links to a variety of funding websites and databases.

For more information:
studyabroad.sit.edu/scholarships
802 258-3212
888 272-7881 (toll-free in the US)
SIT Scholarships

SIT awards more than $1 million in scholarships and grants to SIT Study Abroad students. SIT Study Abroad scholarships generally range from $500 to $5,000.

SIT Study Abroad will automatically match a student’s Pell Grant that is used to pay for one of its accredited field-based semester programs. This information must be confirmed via Step 1 below.

SIT Study Abroad scholarships also include:
- The Experiment in International Living Alumni Study Abroad Scholarship
- HBCU Scholarship
- The Richard and Dale Levy India Scholarship
- The Edith and Erik Bergstrom Foundation Scholarship for Latin America
- The Middle East and Islamic Studies Scholarship

Applying for an SIT Study Abroad scholarship is easy!

1. On your program application, be sure to:
   a) indicate that you wish to apply for SIT scholarships; b) sign the FERPA release; c) provide the name and email address for your institution’s financial aid contact.

2. Add SIT’s school code (008860) to your FAFSA form.

3. Confirm receipt of all required financial aid information with the SIT Study Abroad financial aid coordinator (studyabroad.scholarships@sit.edu or 802 258-3503).

For more information, please visit studyabroad.sit.edu/scholarships.