VIET 3003 – 3503 Online Course

(3 Credits)

Vietnam: Vietnamese Language

This syllabus is representative of a typical term. Because courses develop and change over time to take advantage of unique learning opportunities, actual course content varies from term to term.

Course Description

This Online course is designed for students who have already achieved an intermediate competence in Vietnamese and are ready to begin to engage with materials meant for a native audience. The aim of this courses is to enhance your Vietnamese language skills and cultural competency to advanced level. The lesson units can be designed to cover your specific interests and learning needs. Students in this course attempt to move beyond simple discussions to more complex and nuanced interactions. Speaking practice sessions are less structured than those of the lower level classes and focus on the spontaneous production of lengthier sentences. Writing practice target structured paragraph production, and reading practice introduces texts meant for native speakers.

Instruction consists of intensive hours of Online classes spread over a 9-weeks. Various teaching methods are employed, including in-class discussion on Vietnamese and American subjects, recitations for aural comprehension, and grammar exercises. Homework is assigned daily. Students have opportunities to practice with one language tutors and local student volunteers every week through Online sessions, at least two hours per week. Role-plays and social activities with the instructors are also used as opportunities for learning.

Online classes and language activities are taught by qualified, native-speaking language teachers who experienced with SIT students at different language levels. By strengthening students' knowledge of upper-level Vietnamese sentence patterns and vocabulary, focusing on specific topics of interest to the students and providing the students necessary skills to communicate their opinions about the topics effectively, students are encouraged to apply their language skills during the January Term course in Vietnam.

Language Levels and Placement

Students are placed into appropriate language course levels based on oral proficiency interviews and reading/written tests conducted during orientation in Vietnam.

Guided self-instruction under the supervision of host country language instructors is available for students who place above the language levels offered. Final transcripts indicate the grade for the language course.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, students are expected to:

- Gain a basic foundation in Vietnamese linguistics;
- Further their knowledge of the factors influencing contemporary Vietnamese society;
- Read and discuss glossed selections from local newspapers and magazines, and modified literary excerpts;
- Practice engaging in fluid conversations with native speakers, expressing their viewpoints with relative accuracy and description;
- Begin to move away from short conversational expression, and towards the production of longer, more complex sentences about academic topics.

Course Requirements

This course includes daily quizzes and homework, weekly tests, and midterm and final examinations. Students are expected to complete 1 to 2 hours preparation work or homework for every hour spent in class. Four hours are dedicated to each of 10 units in the textbook covered over the course of the term. Students have additional 10 hours of practicum or additional instruction on selected topics and 1 hour of weekly one-on-one tutorial. The faculty members will be available for those students who would like to have additional individualized times.

Reinforcement exercises, both oral and written, are assigned. On average, students are required to complete at least one hour of homework daily. Class attendance is also required; preparation and participation are highly emphasized.

Proactive participation in class discussion is essential and required. Students also participate in out-of-class educational excursions. These practicums take full advantage of the local environment, requiring students to practice their skills outside the walls of the classroom, yet in a structured way with the support of the language instructions.

Local volunteer students, who are living and studying in Ho Chi Minh City, will be introduced in the first week and they will be local language tutors for online participated students. Both students and local volunteers will practice speaking and listening skills on selected topics around 5 hours during the online language program. The topics might focus on the themes of the week suggested by language instructors and topics might be chosen by participants.

Evaluation and Grading Criteria

Instructors evaluate students' performance based on observation, written exercises, quizzes and exams given throughout the course. Final grades are assigned by the Academic Director in consultation with the language instructor on the basis of the instructor's evaluation, the student's own self-evaluation, and the Academic Director's observation of the student's participation in classes and their efforts to use the language outside of the classroom.

Oral Proficiency Interview

Final oral proficiency interviews are conducted toward the end of the semester to provide a measurement of students' overall linguistic progress. Thus, the course grade provides an assessment of students' performance in meeting the requirements.

Methods of Evaluation

Daily Class Participation (10%)

Students are encouraged to stay motivated, active, and maintain their involvement in class activities during the course. Students are evaluated based on their constant involvement and ability to engage in a variety of classroom and weekly outdoor activities during the course. They are expected to complete 80%-90% of the total work including 4 weekly outdoor activities. Attendance is mandatory; failure to attend class or repeated late arrival to class will impact the grade in the course. See Attendance section below for more details.

Daily Homework (15%)

Students are expected to do weekly readings and writings following the three main focuses: narrative, descriptive, and persuasive (argumentative) in well-organized paragraphs. At this level, the speed is another goal for daily homework. Students are encouraged to increase the speed of reading, being able to comprehend main ideas and supporting detail of the readings. The completion of 80% to 90% of 6 readings and 6 writings is required to maintain constant progress.

Presentation (15%)

Students are expected to complete a 10-minute presentation about one of the assigned topics. Previous presentations are provided for reference.

Weekly Quizzes (20%)

Quizzes are pre-step to prepare for the two main tests. It finalizes the weekly progress students have made in term of vocabulary and structure use, cultural understanding, correction of tones in spelling, and application of reading and writing skill. It is a tool to test the effectiveness of regular homework. There are two main quizzes during the courses. Each quiz lasts from 30 to 45 minutes

Two Language Tests: First Test (20%) and Second Test (20%)

The two main tests navigate students' concentration on both academic and real-life contexts. These two tests include familiar and unfamiliar topics in reading and speaking skills. The tests are effective tools to check if students have made improvements on their weaknesses noted from homework, field trip assignments and regular feedbacks of lecturers. In addition to technical skills of language study, students are expected to develop cultural competence during the course. Therefore, the two main tests are reflections of students' performance and proficiency in academic and experiential aspects.

The two main tests include both written and oral parts. The written test lasts for 90 minutes and the oral test lasts between 10 and 15 minutes for each student.

The final grade is determined as follows:

Daily class participation	10%
Daily homework	15%
Presentation	15%
Quizzes	20%
First test	20%
Second test	20%

Grading Scale: The grading scale for all classes is as follows:

94-100%	A
90-93%	A-
87-89%	B+
84-86%	B
80-83%	B-
77-79%	C+
74-76%	C
70-73%	C-
67-69%	D+
64-66%	D
Below 64	F

Expectations and Policies

Class attendance is mandatory and absences are penalized by reducing the language grade, except for illness cases, when the student is expected to provide a medical certificate. In addition, two repeated and unjustified delays are also counted as an absence and may impact the student's participation grade.

Show up prepared. Be on time, have your assignments completed and points in mind for clarification. Complying with these elements raises the level of class discussion for everyone.

Have assignments completed on schedule, and done according to the specified requirements. This will help ensure that your assignments are returned in a timely manner.

Ask questions in class. Engage the lecturer. Teachers are highly respected in Vietnam. Your polite and engaged behavior is expected.

Comply with academic integrity policies (no plagiarism or cheating, nothing unethical).

Respect differences of opinion (classmates', teachers'). You are not expected to agree with everything you hear, but you are expected to listen across difference and consider other perspectives with respect.

Please refer to the SIT Study Abroad handbook for policies on academic integrity, ethics, warning and probation, diversity and disability, sexual harassment and the academic appeals process. Also, refer to the specific information available in the program dossier given to you at orientation.

Disability Services: Students with disabilities are encouraged to contact Disability Services at disabilityservices@sit.edu for information and support in facilitating an accessible educational experience.
