Intensive Language Study: Intermediate Modern Standard Arabic

ARAB 2000-2500 (6 Credits / 90 class hours)

SIT Study Abroad Program:
Morocco: Migration and Transnational Identity

Course Description
This course is designed to develop student proficiency and communication in Modern Standard Arabic. While emphasis is placed primarily upon oral comprehension and conversational skills (i.e., listening and speaking), reading and writing are highlighted as crucial to the reinforcement of those skills. Thus, the course is designed not only to help students acquire Arabic, but also to grasp cultural practices in the Arab world. Cultural context is built into the course and introduced through audiovisual materials and experiential activities accompanying the textbook. Intermediate Arabic provides students a more in-depth background in daily life issues, enabling them to master critical language skills necessary for performing everyday activities. The objective in this level is to review and expand on topics including:

- Traveling
- Relationships
- Ceremonies
- Services (especially public administration)
- Speaking about one’s career (personal achievements)
- Biography/autobiography
- Functions of speech
- Cultural and literary subjects

Intermediate Arabic covers grammar and syntactic structures to teach students how to create correct sentences, enabling them to both discuss and write about various topics of study. The main focus, however, is on vocabulary related to themes of culture, literature, and authentic everyday situations. Students participate in field exercises and other activities to gain confidence in interacting with Moroccans and immersing in society. Students are responsible for finding new vocabulary words and expressions matching the assigned field exercises — by using dictionaries, additional texts including newspapers and magazines, and by conducting interviews.

*This syllabus is representative of a typical semester. Because courses develop and change over time to take advantage of unique learning opportunities, actual course content varies from semester to semester.
Moroccan Arabic
Immediately after arriving in Rabat and during the first week of orientation, students participate in a 15 hour introduction to Moroccan Colloquial Arabic that ranges from basic vocabulary and sentence structure to easy dialogues and interactive exercises. The objective of these sessions is to provide students with an elementary background and early familiarity with Moroccan Colloquial Arabic in preparation for the homestay experience.

Language Levels and Placement
Non-beginning participants are placed into appropriate language course levels based on estimated-ACTFL oral proficiency interviews and written exams (placement tests) conducted during orientation in Morocco.

Course Objectives
Intermediate Modern Standard Arabic has an interdisciplinary and experiential focus, encompassing 90 class hours (6 credits). Its main objectives are:

- To expand and strengthen proficiency in spoken Arabic;
- To further develop strong oral/written comprehension and writing skills;
- To use the language confidently and effectively in everyday situations and to address a broadening range of topics;
- To acquire insight into the role of Arabic within Moroccan life and culture.

Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of Intermediate Modern Standard Arabic, students will be able:

- To master the grammatical rules, structures, and linguistic functions
- To empower students with proficiency and mastery of the language skills that enhance their academic pursuits in Arabic
- To develop students’ various learning skills to meet their needs and expectations regarding fluency in Arabic language and therefore Arab culture

Course Requirements
This course serves as a continuation of Beginning Arabic and will focus exclusively on Modern Standard Arabic Fusha. Students in this course will develop an intermediate level competency in reading and aural comprehension skills and increase their abilities to express ideas in writing. They will be able to understand the main ideas in texts dealing with basic personal and social needs. These texts will involve description and narration in different timeframes, including present, past, habitual and imperfective.

This course adopts a multi-level methodology integrating the skills of reading, writing, listening, grammar, vocabulary and conversation. Arabic is the only teaching language used in class, except when it is necessary to facilitate the explanation of a grammatical rule or lexical phrase. The size of classes is also kept small.

For an interactive and creative learning environment, the class will include:

- Survival Moroccan Arabic (additional to the 90 contact hours)
- Field trips and exercises involving language practice in “souks”, cafés, restaurants, museums, etc.
- Arabic lecture series and experiential sessions reflecting different aspects about life in Morocco
- Group Discussions with Moroccan university students

*This syllabus is representative of a typical semester. Because courses develop and change over time to take advantage of unique learning opportunities, actual course content varies from semester to semester.

To strengthen the following skills, the class will emphasize:

Conversation:
- To enrich students' linguistic and cultural backgrounds to better talk about daily life issues related to the Arab world in general and Morocco particular
- To perform oral presentations on themes of interest

Writing:
- To master composition techniques
- To summarize texts and express point of views while writing

Reading:
- To master texts on culture, literature and authentic real life situations
- To get an insight into how some abstract topics are tackled in Arabic writings as a more advanced introduction to culture and literature

Listening:
- To immerse smoothly and effectively in Morocco’s society and culture mainly through the assigned field exercises and audio-video materials selected by the instructors
- To enable the students to develop their listening techniques during the Arabic lecture series

Readings
You are responsible for all the required readings, and should be prepared to bring them for the Arabic classes.

Required readings
All students are required to bring the following Arabic textbooks with them to Morocco. These texts are not available in Morocco. Please make sure you have the latest versions of the following items. If you do not have a laptop, you should have a DVD player for your homework.

Other Pedagogical Supports
Fush’a al-Markaz (a series of lessons prepared and adapted by CCCL instructors, first published in 1996 and revised and edited in 2007). Besides written materials, CCCL uses audio, video and internet material, some recorded from TV, internet, Radio and others published; in addition to different textbooks edited both in Morocco and internationally.

Al AArabiya almuaassira, Part I and II, Institue Bourgiba, Tunis

PLEASE NOTE: COURSE CONTENTS, LECTURERS AND READINGS MAY BE MODIFIED AS NEEDED. SHOULD ANY CHANGE OF CLASS TOPICS OR LECTURERS BE NECESSARY, STUDENTS WILL BE PROMPTLY NOTIFIED.

Evaluation and Grading Criteria

Grades are assigned by the language instructors based on the following evaluation criteria:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Component</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Attendance</td>
<td>25%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Homework</td>
<td>25%</td>

<td>20%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Written Examination</td>
<td>15%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Oral Presentation</td>
<td>15%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Attendance
Class attendance is mandatory and absences are penalized by reducing the language grade, except for illness cases, when the student is expected to provide a medical certificate. In addition, two repetitive and unjustified delays are also counted as an absence and may impact the student’s participation grade.

Homework
Reinforcement exercises are assigned daily, with students expected to spend an average of 2 hours of homework every day. Exercises will consist of written and oral assignments, and may include finding new vocabulary items and expressions, listening and watching TV programs with the aim rehearsing strategies of picking up and understanding sounds. Participants are supposed to submit the exercises within the indicated deadlines; otherwise the exercise is not accepted, which will affect the course grade. Part of the learner's tasks is also to read the grammar section of Al-Kitaab, presented in English, outside class time to avoid using the foreign language in class.

Participation
The aim of class participation is to: 1) Express your views; 2) Ask questions; 3) Make suggestions; 4) Read the assigned lessons ahead of class time to familiarize yourself with the specific vocabulary and content of the course and thus be able to follow class discussions and rehearse your vocabulary.

Written Examination
The course includes a mid-term and a final assessment that last one hour and a half each. Each week around 20 minutes are devoted to reviewing the vocabulary and grammar covered.

Oral Presentation
Two oral presentations are scheduled during the program. Students are given the choice of subjects with total awareness to use vocabulary and linguistic skills acquired in their language class. The time of this presentation ranges around 10 to 20 minutes maximum. The students can have the option to present individually or in a group where they are free to join students from other levels. Oral presentations are moments of celebration as students perform and engage in creative activities.

Estimated-ACTFL Oral Proficiency Exam: At the end of the course, students will be given an oral proficiency exam to provide a measurement of students' overall linguistic progress. The exam consists of a brief (25-30 minute) oral interview designed to evaluate student speaking abilities and comprehension of Modern Standard Arabic. Students do not receive a numeric or alphabetical grade for the oral proficiency exam, but are instead described by an estimated ACTFL score: "beginner high," "intermediate low," etc. Thus, course grades provide an assessment of students' performances in meeting the requirements of the language class while estimated ACTFL scores provide an assessment of students' linguistic competence in the host language. Both the course grade and the estimated ACTFL score are reported on the transcript.

Grading Scale: The grading scale for all classes is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Percentage</th>
<th>Grade</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>94-100%</td>

Grading Criteria
An "A" grade for an assignment entails superior (not just "very good") performance in terms of structure and organization of assignments, analysis, logical argumentation and consistency, and the provision of factual, numerical and/or historical evidence. In terms of class participation, an "A" grade refers to full attendance, punctuality, attentive listening and active engagement in all academic seminar lectures, discussions, field trips and other activities. It also means polite and respectful behavior. The level, frequency, and quality of student participation will be monitored and taken into account.

Additional Information

Homestays
As a complement to the language classes, homestays provide students with the opportunity to learn from different people and to use their language skills continually in a multilingual learning environment. Our goal is to help students develop the necessary communication tools which they can use with their host families, neighbors and Moroccans on the street.

Field Exercises
Once a week, through field assignments, students enrich their classroom learning experience and their ability to function in real life language situations, assimilate everyday life issues and immerse in the host culture. Field assignments are done both individually and in groups.

Field assignments may include visits to the following places:
- "Souks:" to practice bargaining skills and interact with community members
- Cafés and restaurants: to experience ordering drinks and food
- Museums and monuments: to learn about historical sites and handicrafts

Office Hours
Office hours are scheduled for one hour per week. The teacher may also have additional office hours for students who need further support. For the most effective and constructive management of the language course, students have the opportunity to give their feedback on course content and methodology through written and oral assessments scheduled throughout the semester.

Written Assessment
First week evaluation: the purpose of this first evaluation is to make sure the students are placed in the appropriate level and that they understand the teaching methodology to be used for the semester.

Mid-term evaluation: This assessment first checks whether the methodology used was effective and helped the participant progress and improve their language skills. Second, the purpose is also to implement the participants’ suggestions and recommendations in the rest of the semester for better quality teaching.

Final evaluation: It assesses the language program as a whole and checks to what extent it met the intended learning objectives of participants.

Oral Assessment
This is based on the students’ feedback either in class or during the office hours. It is the teacher’s responsibility to maintain a daily channel of communication with their students to find out about their needs and concerns.

Student Expectations

Class Participation
Participation in class refers to attendance, punctuality, attentive listening and active engagement in all lectures, discussions, educational excursions, assignments and other activities. It also means polite and respectful behavior. An absent student is responsible for contacting the instructor, the tutor, and/or fellow students to be prepared for the assignments s/he missed and the ones scheduled for the next class.
