SIT risk assessment and enrollment management teams have reviewed the Fall 2021 portfolio of programs on June 7 and have updated the program statuses below. At this time, SIT expects to run 35 programs this fall and are marked “Running in Fall 2021.” For Fall 2021, some programs have experienced changes to program dates, program base, excursions and other content and those changes are currently being communicated to students and their home institutions. Students should contact their admissions counselor and partner schools should contact their university relations manager with questions.
