Advanced Spanish I
SPAN-3003 (3 credits)

Chile: Spanish Language (Intermediate and Advanced)

This syllabus is representative of a typical semester. Because courses develop and change over time to take advantage of unique learning opportunities, actual course content varies from semester to semester.

Course Description
This online course aims to support students in developing their listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills in Spanish at the advanced level. While all four components are important for this course, emphasis is placed primarily on oral comprehension and conversational skills (i.e., listening and speaking). Proficiency in the use of grammatical structures is also highly emphasized to improve student’s communication and comprehension skills in Spanish. Reading and writing skills are reinforced through formal composition and reading assignments. The course is also designed to introduce students to Chilean cultural particularities. Cultural context is built into the course and introduced through audiovisual materials and experiential online activities. Members of our host family network will be invited to share informal and meaningful cultural exchange activities with students. Students will also be supported by language tutors.

Student Learning Outcomes
Upon completing this course, students will be able to:

- Continue to develop their abilities to communicate in Spanish while using the four skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing;
- Understand long oral speeches at the advanced level;
- Consolidate their command of complex Spanish grammatical rules;
- Write clear, complex, and detailed texts on various topics;
- Conduct an interview in Spanish, analyzing its results and preparing a report;
- Use double object pronouns in conversation with more ease;
- Explain in some detail the historical and cultural context of Chile, using idiomatic expressions.
- Describe Chilean customs using the appropriate vocabulary;

How these Outcomes Will Be Met
Classes and language activities are taught by experienced native speakers using oral proficiency-based approaches. Oral proficiency interviews are also conducted toward the end of the course to provide a measurement of students' overall communicative and linguistic progress. Thus, course grades provide an assessment of students' performance in meeting the requirements of the language class while estimated language levels provide an assessment of students' linguistic competence in the host language.

The learning process throughout the course is theoretical-practical, since the student will experience and use the language in group or individual activities, with strategies and content acquired during asynchronous and synchronous classes. The specificity of this course lies in developing communicative and intercultural capacities of the students through two foreseeable instances.

1.- Participation in academic training activities in the Spanish language, through asynchronous and synchronous use of a virtual classroom.

1.1.- Asynchronous online training activity:
These sessions will focus on one of the themes of the thematic module and will include exposure to elements of culture, identity and interculturality in Chile. Students will work with our newspaper library, which will be complemented by synchronous online sessions and tutorials.

1.2.- Synchronous online training activity:
The synchronous sessions will focus on conversation and the opportunities to use the Spanish language in panel discussions, presentations, and role-play activities, etc.

2.- Interaction with native speakers
Students will interact with native speakers in synchronous online exchange meetings thereby experiencing Chilean culture, history, and social realities.

The Spanish program is designed to adapt to diverse situations and to facilitate the active engagement of all participants. In this way, the courses centers students in order to accommodate the diversity of their needs.

Language of Instruction
This course is conducted entirely in Spanish.

Language Levels and Placement
Students are placed into the appropriate language course levels based on oral proficiency interviews and written exams (placement tests) conducted during the first week of the online program. The oral proficiency exam consists of a short interview of perhaps 20-30 minutes.

Course Requirements
Students are responsible for completing all required assignments. They should come to class prepared. Reading assignments are particularly important as they enable students to engage with instructors and peers in a more meaningful way, to generate questions for class discussions, and to frame their daily experiences outside of class.

All grades assigned will take into account the students’ special circumstances and challenges they face as foreign students. An “A” grade for an assignment entails superior (not just “very good”) performance in terms of not only technical correctness, but also in structure and organization of assignments, analysis, logic of writing, and consistency.

In terms of Class Participation, an “A” grade refers to full attendance, punctuality, attentive listening, and active engagement in all lectures, discussions, field trips, and other activities. It also means polite and respectful behavior. The level, frequency, and quality of the student’s participation will be monitored and taken into account. A “B” letter grade reflects serious and methodical work as well as a substantial effort at analyzing and understanding the issues. A “C” letter grade shows the work meets the requirements but needs more in-depth reflection and personal involvement. A “D” letter grade is insufficient and clearly reflects lack of work or serious deficiencies.

Program Expectations
- Show up prepared. Be on time, have your readings completed and points in mind for discussion or clarification. Complying with these elements raises the level of class discussion for everyone.
- Have assignments completed on schedule and done accordingly to the specified requirements. This will help ensure that your assignments are returned in a timely manner.
- Ask questions in online class. Engage the lecturer.
- Comply with academic integrity policies (no plagiarism or cheating, nothing unethical).
• Respect differences of opinion (classmates’, lecturers, local constituents engaged with on the visits). You are not expected to agree with everything you hear, but you are expected to listen across difference and consider other perspectives with respect.

• Storing Your Work: Keep several copies of your work as back up and keep one copy accessible to you through an online forum, such as an attachment in your email, the course learning management system, or cloud-based storage. This way your work will always be available to despite technical issues. Lost files, deleted drives, or computer crashes are not excusing for late, missing work.

• Personal Technology Use: cell phones and other personal electronics can be used for taking notes and other class activities. Off-task usage is not acceptable. You may be marked as absent for habitually using them for something other than online classroom activities.

• Course Communication: Course documents and assignments will be posted on the learning management system, Canvas. Although the course calendar provides a broad overview and the general sequence of work and assignments for the course, what we accomplish in class will vary, and revisions to the calendar will be posted at the course site. You will need to check the course site regularly. You are responsible for letting me know about any network-related problems that prevent you from accessing or submitting assignments.

• Content Considerations: Some texts and activities you will encounter in this course delve into sensitive topics that may be emotionally and intellectually challenging. Our classroom is a space where we can engage with challenging ideas, question assumptions, and navigate difficult topics with respect and maturity. As possible, I will flag content and activities that are especially graphic or intense, so we are prepared to address them soberly and sensitively. If you are struggling to keep up with the work or participate in the course because of the nature of the content and activities, you should speak with the Academic Director and/or seek help from counseling services.

• Classroom recording policy: To ensure the free and open discussion of ideas, students may not record online classroom lectures, discussion and/or activities without the advance written permission of the instructor, and any such recording properly approved in advance can be used solely for the student's own private use.
