

Switzerland Homestay Questionnaire

Part of the homestay experience involves adapting to Swiss family life, and although no one can guarantee a perfect tailor-made homestay for you, we will try our best. We consider dietary restrictions, interests, family preferences, etc. when deciding who will live with whom. This is a two-way street, so we take into account the preferences of the homestay families as well.

Although you may have already answered similar questions in the application, we are asking you to answer the following questions in detail.
